Explanations

SAMPLE

1. Which event was started in 2008 as part of International Awareness and Involvement?

A. World Health Day

B. World AIDS Day

C. Global Poverty Day

D. World Education Day

World AIDS Day, established in 2008 as part of International Awareness and Involvement, is observed on December 1st each year. It serves as an opportunity to raise awareness about the AIDS pandemic caused by the spread of HIV infection and to commemorate those who have died from AIDS-related illnesses. The day promotes efforts to prevent the transmission of HIV, encourages testing and treatment, and illuminates the ongoing challenges faced by people living with HIV/AIDS, particularly in marginalized communities. The initiative aligns with Delta Sigma Theta's focus on public service and advocacy for health-related issues, making it an important event in terms of global health awareness. While other events, such as World Health Day, Global Poverty Day, and World Education Day, are significant in their own right, they either predate 2008 or focus on different themes that are not specifically centered on the issues surrounding HIV/AIDS awareness. Therefore, World AIDS Day stands out as the correct answer in this context.

2. Who would likely receive the National President's Leadership Award?

A. A member excelling in artistic endeavors

B. A chapter with high academic performance

C. An individual demonstrating extraordinary leadership

D. A humanitarian emerging as a leader

The National President's Leadership Award is typically designated for individuals who exemplify exceptional leadership qualities and contribute significantly to the mission and vision of the organization. This award specifically recognizes those who not only show outstanding leadership skills but also inspire and motivate others, make impactful contributions to their communities, and lead by example within the scope of the sorority's objectives. Individuals demonstrating extraordinary leadership would have a proven record of advancing the goals and principles of Delta Sigma Theta through their actions, initiatives, or influence. This could include leading successful projects, mentoring fellow members, or navigating challenges with integrity and foresight. The emphasis on leadership aligns with the core values of the organization, which seeks to uplift and empower both its members and the communities they serve. While the other options highlight commendable traits—like artistic excellence, academic performance, or humanitarian efforts—they do not specifically focus on the leadership aspect that is central to the National President's Leadership Award. Therefore, the correct choice reflects the significance of leadership in the context of the sorority's mission.

3. Who was leading during the first National Convention of the organization?

A. Sadie Tanner Mossel Alexander

B. G. Dorothy Pelham Beckley

C. Jimmie Bugg Middleton

D. Myra Davis Hemmings

The first National Convention of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., held in 1919, was led by Jimmie Bugg Middleton. She played a pivotal role in establishing the foundation and governance structure of the sorority during its early years. Middleton's leadership was instrumental in guiding the organization through its formative stages, fostering a sense of unity and purpose among the members who were committed to public service and advocacy for African Americans. The contributions of other individuals listed in the options are significant in the broader context of the sorority's history, but Middleton's leadership during the first convention specifically cemented her place as a key figure in the organization's development.

4. Which colors represent the sorority?

A. Black and Gold

B. Navy and White

C. Crimson and Cream

D. Green and Yellow

The colors that represent Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. are Crimson and Cream. These colors have significant meaning within the sorority, embodying its values and heritage. Crimson symbolizes strength, courage, and determination, while cream represents purity and the noble intentions of the organization. Together, these colors reflect the commitment of Delta Sigma Theta to service and sisterhood. They are prominently featured in the sorority's branding and attire, reinforcing identity and pride among members. The correct answer underscores the distinctive character of the sorority as well as its historical significance within the African American community.

5. Which foundation is specifically dedicated to research and education within Delta Sigma Theta?

A. Delta Education Initiative

B. Delta Leadership Foundation

C. Delta Research and Education Foundation

D. Delta Outreach Center

The Delta Research and Education Foundation is specifically dedicated to research and educational initiatives within Delta Sigma Theta. This foundation plays a crucial role in promoting the organization's commitment to educational advancement and empowering individuals through research-based knowledge. It focuses on providing scholarships, funding educational programs, and supporting research that aligns with the Sorority's mission of service and social justice. By prioritizing educational excellence and research, the Delta Research and Education Foundation helps foster a deeper understanding of the challenges that communities face and equips members of the Sorority and the broader community with the tools necessary to address these issues effectively. This alignment with Delta Sigma Theta's values and goals distinguishes it from other foundations that may focus on leadership development, community outreach, or other areas.

6. What funds were established under the first national president Sadie Tanner Mossell Alexander?

A. Scholarship fund, community service fund, education fund, housing fund

B. Housing fund, sinking fund, scholarship award fund, college tuition fund

C. Public service fund, emergency fund, cultural fund, research fund

D. Leadership fund, international fund, mentorship fund, tuition fund

The correct answer highlights the establishment of funds that were pivotal to the mission and goals of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority during the leadership of Sadie Tanner Mossell Alexander, the first national president. Under her guidance, there was a strong emphasis on supporting education and providing financial assistance for college tuition. The housing fund and sinking fund also reflect attention to the broader needs of the community, ensuring stability and support for members. These initiatives were aligned with the sorority's focus on public service and addressing the immediate needs of African American communities through educational scholarships and accessible housing. By establishing funds that directly catered to critical areas such as college tuition and housing, Alexander laid a foundation that supported academic achievement and community engagement. In contrast, the other options contain combinations of funds that either do not align with the historical initiatives established during Alexander's presidency or are not reflective of the priorities that were emphasized at that time, focusing more on broad cultural or research aspects rather than direct financial assistance and support for education and housing.

7. The Vashti Turley Murphy Scholarship is specifically designated for which field?

A. Education

B. Ministry

C. Healthcare

D. Engineering

The Vashti Turley Murphy Scholarship is specifically designated for the field of Ministry. This scholarship was established to honor Vashti Turley Murphy, who was influential in the early history of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., and it reflects the organization's commitment to supporting individuals pursuing careers in religious studies and ministry. By focusing on ministry, the scholarship aims to empower future leaders who will contribute to spiritual and community development. The emphasis on supporting those in the ministry aligns with the sorority's overall mission of service and advocacy, particularly in contexts that promote social justice and community upliftment. Such targeted scholarships reinforce the importance of spiritual leadership within the broader mission of Delta Sigma Theta.

SAMPLE

8. Which scholarship specifically relates to community service?

A. The Myra Davis Hemmings Scholarship

B. The Bertha Pitts Campbell Scholarship

C. The Vashti Turley Murphy Scholarship

D. No specific scholarship mentioned

The correct choice relates to the nature of the scholarships offered by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., which often have various focuses, including but not limited to academic achievement, leadership, and community service. However, it is important to note that while there are numerous scholarships that recognize and reward students for their involvement and contributions to community service, the context of the question implies that none of the provided options specifically highlights that aspect as a primary focus of a scholarship. In reality, many Delta Sigma Theta scholarships do encourage community service as a significant criterion, but when considering the wording and intent of this particular question, it suggests that none of the listed scholarships are exclusively defined by their community service requirement alone. This can be a point of confusion for those familiar with the sorority's broader outreach and scholarship programs, yet it clarifies that the choices provided do not unequivocally single out community service as the principal theme for those named scholarships.

9. Which committee focuses on the financial oversight of the organization?

A. Arts and Letters

B. Internal Audit

C. Public Policy

D. Events Coordination

The correct answer is the committee that specializes in financial oversight, which is the Internal Audit committee. This committee plays a crucial role in ensuring that the organization adheres to financial regulations and standards. It conducts systematic evaluations of financial records and practices to ensure accuracy, integrity, and compliance with organizational policies and external regulations. This oversight helps maintain transparency and accountability in the organization's financial operations, ultimately safeguarding its assets. In contrast, the Arts and Letters committee typically focuses on promoting cultural and artistic initiatives within the organization and the community, while the Public Policy committee advocates for legislative changes and social issues relevant to the organization's mission. The Events Coordination committee is responsible for planning and executing events but is not engaged in financial oversight. Each of these committees has specific functions tailored to different aspects of the organization's objectives, but none hold the same financial oversight responsibility as the Internal Audit committee.

Mamie Reddy Rose's early contributions to the organization and her dedication to its principles established her as an influential figure within the sorority.
