Introduction

Preparing for a certification exam can feel overwhelming, but with the right tools, it becomes an opportunity to build confidence, sharpen your skills, and move one step closer to your goals. At Examzify, we believe that effective exam preparation isn't just about memorization, it's about understanding the material, identifying knowledge gaps, and building the test-taking strategies that lead to success.

This guide was designed to help you do exactly that.

Whether you're preparing for a licensing exam, professional certification, or entry-level qualification, this book offers structured practice to reinforce key concepts. You'll find a wide range of multiple-choice questions, each followed by clear explanations to help you understand not just the right answer, but why it's correct.

The content in this guide is based on real-world exam objectives and aligned with the types of questions and topics commonly found on official tests. It's ideal for learners who want to:

- Practice answering questions under realistic conditions,
- Improve accuracy and speed,
- Review explanations to strengthen weak areas, and
- Approach the exam with greater confidence.

We recommend using this book not as a stand-alone study tool, but alongside other resources like flashcards, textbooks, or hands-on training. For best results, we recommend working through each question, reflecting on the explanation provided, and revisiting the topics that challenge you most.

Remember: successful test preparation isn't about getting every question right the first time, it's about learning from your mistakes and improving over time. Stay focused, trust the process, and know that every page you turn brings you closer to success.

Let's begin.

How to Use This Guide

This guide is designed to help you study more effectively and approach your exam with confidence. Whether you're reviewing for the first time or doing a final refresh, here's how to get the most out of your Examzify study guide:

1. Start with a Diagnostic Review

Skim through the questions to get a sense of what you know and what you need to focus on. Your goal is to identify knowledge gaps early.

2. Study in Short, Focused Sessions

Break your study time into manageable blocks (e.g. 30 – 45 minutes). Review a handful of questions, reflect on the explanations.

3. Learn from the Explanations

After answering a question, always read the explanation, even if you got it right. It reinforces key points, corrects misunderstandings, and teaches subtle distinctions between similar answers.

4. Track Your Progress

Use bookmarks or notes (if reading digitally) to mark difficult questions. Revisit these regularly and track improvements over time.

5. Simulate the Real Exam

Once you're comfortable, try taking a full set of questions without pausing. Set a timer and simulate test-day conditions to build confidence and time management skills.

6. Repeat and Review

Don't just study once, repetition builds retention. Re-attempt questions after a few days and revisit explanations to reinforce learning. Pair this guide with other Examzify tools like flashcards, and digital practice tests to strengthen your preparation across formats.

There's no single right way to study, but consistent, thoughtful effort always wins. Use this guide flexibly, adapt the tips above to fit your pace and learning style. You've got this!

1. What did Brendan lose during the car wash?

- A. Wallet
- B. Phone
- C. Glasses
- D. Keys

During the car wash, Brendan loses his glasses. The scene is chaotic and wet, and the glasses slip away in the splash and scramble to grab belongings, so the loss of his glasses stands out as the memorable detail. His ability to see is central to how he experiences what's happening, so this moment — losing the glasses — carries both practical and emotional weight, making it the best fit for what disappears in that scene.

2. What nickname do Shoshanna's parents call her?

- A. Shoshanna
- B. Shosh
- C. Shoshy
- D. Shoshie

A common way authors show family warmth is through a simple nickname that shortens a full name. In the story, Shoshanna's parents address her with a concise, affectionate form of her name, turning it into a quick, familiar sound they use regularly. That clipped version—Shosh—feels natural for how parents often call their kids at home, making it the best match for how they refer to her in everyday moments. Using the full name would read as more formal, while the longer forms like Shoshy or Shoshie aren't what you'd typically hear parents use daily. So the nickname they use is Shosh.

3. What photo is on Chase's phone's home screen?

- A. A selfie of three kids
- B. A landscape
- C. A photo of a trophy
- D. A pet dog

A character's choice of a home screen image reveals what matters most to them and hints at their relationships. The photo on Chase's phone is a selfie of three kids, which shows he values his friends and shared moments with them. A selfie is a personal, everyday image, unlike a landscape (which is just scenery), a trophy (which highlights achievement), or a pet (which would focus on an animal). The three-kid selfie specifically signals close friendships or a group dynamic that's meaningful in his life, making it the strongest cue about his world at that moment.

4. How is it described when Brendan rides through the car wash brushes?

- A. Like being tickled by feathers
- B. Like surfing a foam wave
- C. Like running through a wind tunnel
- D. Like he's being attacked by two whirling monsters from Where the Wild Things Are

This question tests how vivid imagery and familiar references are used to show a character's chaotic moment. The moment with Brendan is painted as anything but gentle; the car wash brushes are imagined as two whirling monsters, drawing on the well-known creatures from Where the Wild Things Are. That allusion amplifies the sense of being overwhelmed and under siege by the spinning, unpredictable brushes, and it also adds humor because it playfully contrasts a kid-friendly reference with a wild, sensory rush. The other sensations don't fit as well because they describe milder or different experiences. Being tickled by feathers suggests a light, harmless touch; surfing a foam wave implies smooth, buoyant motion; running through a wind tunnel emphasizes forceful wind but lacks the vivid, monstrous confrontation that the scene conveys. The monster imagery best captures the intensity and comic chaos of Brendan's car-wash ride.

5. What is the Hiawasee mascot?

- A. Jaguar
- B. Eagle
- C. Bear
- D. Wolf

The idea here is recognizing the school mascot that represents its teams and spirit. The Hiawasee mascot is the Jaguar, which embodies speed, agility, and fierce competitiveness—qualities teams often want to project at games and events. That makes Jaguar the best fit for this school's identity. The other animals—bear, eagle, wolf—are common choices for mascots at other schools, but they don't reflect the official mascot in this case.

6. Which character's father makes the duck analogy?

- A. Chase
- B. Aaron Hakimian
- C. Kimberly Tooley
- D. Julius Solway

The duck analogy is a way to show appearances can be deceiving and that there's a lot going on beneath the surface. A parent uses that image to remind their child to look beyond how someone seems and to consider what they might be feeling or dealing with inside. In the book, this exact image is used by Aaron Hakimian's father, making him the source of that metaphor. This moment helps underline a theme many characters confront: not judging people by outward behavior alone and understanding the effort and struggles that aren't immediately visible. The other fathers don't employ this particular image, so they don't fit this specific moment in the story.

7. What do Aaron and Bear do when they see Chase with a bulge in his pocket in the hallway?

- A. They ignore him and walk away.
- B. They block his way and take the Medal.
- C. They search his pockets for the Medal.
- D. They call the police for backup.

This scene tests how Aaron and Bear respond when they think someone has something valuable. Their behavior is driven by intimidation and a grab-for-value mindset, which shows they're willing to intervene directly to seize control of a coveted item. Seeing a bulge in Chase's pocket suggests to them that he might be carrying the Medal. Their reaction is to block his way, corner him, and physically take the Medal. That choice fits their established pattern as bullies who directly push others to reclaim something they want, rather than letting the situation pass or involving others. Other options don't fit the moment: simply ignoring him wouldn't match their aggressive nature, inviting someone else to handle it wouldn't reflect their direct approach, and calling the police would be an extreme step for a hallway incident. The direct confrontation to grab the Medal is the most consistent action given the setup.

8. Who does Kimberly get to help Joel and Brendan when they are attacked in the music room?

- A. Chase
- B. Brendan
- C. Aaron
- D. Bear

The moment centers on recognizing who steps in to help during a tense attack and what that choice reveals about the characters. Kimberly brings in Chase Ambrose to intervene when Joel and Brendan are under attack in the music room. Chase's decision to get involved shows a turning point in his arc—he moves from being perceived as a bully to choosing to stand up for others and protect his classmates. This intervention shifts the dynamics in the scene, demonstrating how one brave, protective act can defuse danger and model taking responsibility for others. Brendan, Aaron, and Bear are part of the surrounding dynamics, but the specific act of stepping in to help Joel and Brendan comes from Chase, which is why he's the best answer.

9. Who is the mystery yogurt bomber?

- A. Chase
- B. Dad
- C. Shoshanna
- D. Joel

Solving a mystery in this story comes from weighing what actually happened against who could have done it and why. The narrative ties the yogurt-bomber incident to a character who was in the right place at the right time, had access to the cafeteria area, and harbored a motive tied to how she's treated by peers. Shoshanna fits that pattern: she's connected to the setting of the scene, she stands to gain from shaking up the cafeteria dynamics, and the clues the narrator highlights align with her actions and feelings at that moment. The other characters don't line up with both the opportunity and the motive as cleanly, so the story's details point to her as the person behind the act.

10. Who is the faculty adviser for the video club?

A. Brendon Espinoza

B. Ms. DeLeo

C. Chase

D. Shoshanna

The idea here is to identify the staff member who oversees the club, not a student. In this context, the adviser is the teacher who guides the video club, handles meetings, and coordinates with the school. Ms. DeLeo fits that role, as she's presented as the faculty member in charge. The other names are students, so they aren't the adviser. So the best answer is Ms. DeLeo.
